

Adam Bastow

Objective : To leverage my Python/Django skills along side my experience as a process consultant to move away from the freelance arena and get back to working with dynamic teams and exciting new products.

Technical Skills:

Django / Python / HTML / CSS / SQL / Jupyter
Notebooks

www.adm-bjmn.com

I am currently working as a freelance process consultant helping small business's to improve workflows and procedures in order to optimise output.

In 2020 I began implementing simple technologies into my own work and after developing my technical skills further I have decided to pursue a career in the field.

Formal Educational.

Hyperion Dev Software Engineer Bootcamp - 2022
Self funded 3 month boot camp with the intention of validating and officiating my programming experience.
Completed in 4 weeks with 100%.

Hyperion Dev Data Science Bootcamp - 2022
Offered due to my completion of the SE bootcamp in under half the expected time.
Completed with 100%.

Diploma of Business and Management - 2017
Self Funded Business Diploma covering all principles of management and business practices.
Achieved Honours.

UK Drivers licence
(CAT: A, B, BE)

Contact Information:

Adam Benjamin Bastow -
Django / Python Developer

Phone : 07824166857
Email: adm.bjmn@gmail.com

EQ:

The ability to communicate with intent.

The creative pragmatism needed to reverse engineer elegant solutions.

The foresight to ask the right questions early.

Strong leadership and staff management skills, with experience managing large teams of staff and overseeing daily operations

Effective time and resource management abilities, with experience managing multiple tasks and priorities simultaneously

Attention to detail and excellent organisational skills, developed through planning and executing successful events and overseeing daily operations

Commitment to learning and adapting to new technologies and situations, with experience working in diverse and challenging environments

The understanding that sometimes the most complex solutions will only appear to you after you sit down and have something to eat.

Early Career Experience.

Pre 2019 I developed a strong career in Hospitality. Achieving national recognition in Australia, working with incredible teams and pushing myself to be a pillar of industry. I left my last job to become a consultant in March 2019.

2016 - 2019 - Restaurant Manager - Etsu Izakaya.
Gold Coast Australia

Etsu Izakaya is a 230 seat fine dining restaurant with over 30 members of staff and a glistening reputation. Managing such a large and highly regarded establishment was the final challenge I needed in the hospitality industry before becoming a freelance consultant and I am ever grateful for the experience. Under my leadership Etsu gained recognition as one of Australia's top 100 Japanese Restaurants and continues to lean on many of the procedures I implemented to this day.